3. Mission Moment

Arlyne Sevilla reflected back to when she first became involved with the API community in Bremerton, WA through a community-based organization which provided comprehensive employment services to newly-arrived Asian immigrants. Grassroots issues needed to be resolved and through networking, members of the API communities in Seattle and Tacoma worked with local community members toward resolution. Subsequently she worked with what was then the Commission on Asian American Affairs and worked with two of its executive directors. After years of working with a quasi-public agency, and corporate enterprises she returned to the ID to work with SCIDpda. She said returning to the District was like coming home and has enjoyed working with a new group of community leaders. Arlyne said that professionally and personally it's been rewarding to work with such a dedicated group of staff who are committed to the pda's mission.

4. Management Report

Vern Wood reviewed the monthly financials and spent some time reporting on segments of the reports including property management, and fundraising.

5. Committee Updates

Josephine Tamayo Murray reported that Senior Services' Legacy House continues to do well, that they're at 100% census and that Tommy Tomlinson is doing well managing its programs.

Paul Mar, Real Estate Committee, reported that the cafeteria's kitchen equipment and dining room furniture will be delivered and installed during the month of August; that IDEA Space staff are discussing alternative cost-effective façade improvement strategies with the City's Office of Economic Development; said that the development potential at the Reprographics NW site has stopped due to the asking price for the property; and reported it is uncertain as to the purchaser's current interest in pursuing the Downtowner.

Executive Committee – Michael Wu said the Council's Retreat is set for October 28. He asked Maiko Winkler-Chin to provide an update of the Council's committees which is being restructured down to five from eight: Executive, Finance, Senior Services, Internal, and External. Ad Hoc Committees will address the Strategic Plan update, Post Retreat work groups, Event Committee, Project Committee when a new real estate development is started.

6. Director's Report

Maiko Winkler-Chin's report included an update on federal and City issues. She said that City Council would be voting on the paid sick leave ordinance the following day. The ordinance as it's currently written will have minimal impact to SCIDpda. There was a discussion of how small businesses in the District could be affected.

The Council spent a great amount of time discussing the SDOT issues and its impact to the District. They reviewed a draft position paper which had been developed by District agency directors Teresita Batayola and Hyeok Kim which was to be distributed to the Mayor and City Council. Rita Brogan proposed making the language stronger and offered to work with Maiko to change the content to more effective language. The Council members also discussed what strategic calls should be made, as well as consideration of establishing a coalition due to the impact to other communities.

Public safety in the District, one of the compelling concerns the Council has had because of its impact to community and businesses was discussed at length. The pda has a long history of advocacy concerning public safety in the District and the Council discussed ways to continue to draw the attention of public officials to address these concerns.

7. Administrative

Aryne Sevilla said there were no updates to report on.

8. Michael Wu adjourned the meeting at 6:50 pm.
